The alternatives will then move forward into project development, which includes preliminary design and environmental review. Potential impacts and displacements will be determined as the proposed project progresses and will be presented at future Public Meetings.

Any preliminary documentation or materials, maps and drawings showing the feasibility study location, and other information regarding the feasibility study are on file and available by appointment Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the TxDOT Houston District Office, 7600 Washington Avenue, Houston, Texas 77007.
